Fruit Land for Sale.

I have for sale two small fruit farms, one consisting of six acres all planted to fruit, price $600; one containing 10 acres, mostly graded and partly planted to strawberries—one of the most desirable tracts in the vicinity of Milton; price $1000, part cash, remainder on time. The water privileges on both are unquestionable and the supply abundant. These prices are one-third below what the land would have sold for last spring. Circumstances are such that this land must be sold, and those who desire to avail themselves of this unusual opportunity must call soon. I will esteem it a favor if my friends will interest themselves so far as to call the attention of prospective purchasers to these offers.

E. O.: J. B. Keeney is in Pendleton again after another long trip. He came up on this morning's train from Portland, and has visited Lewiston, Mt. Idaho, Canyon City and other places while looking over the C. O. & I. Co.'s mail routes. The grain situation in the Palouse country he describes as deplorable. Much has been lost and numerous fields of grain standing are yet seen.

On Tuesday evening a number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Kirkland gathered at their home on Fifth street to celebrate their tin wedding. The evening was pleasantly spent and an excellent lunch was served, after which the guests departed, well pleased with the evening's enjoyment; all hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland may celebrate their golden wedding as happily as this.

The body of an Indian woman found last week by T. J. Watts on Pine Creek, are still lying in the brush where they were found. The Agent has been notified, and sent an Indian to see about it. The Indian said the squaw belonged to the Yakima reservation, and would have nothing to do with her remains. The county officers should see to burying her, as it is a disgrace that she should be left there a week after being found.

U. S. Circuit Court
The United States Circuit Court commenced in Portland this week. There were forty grand jurors and sixty trial jurors summoned. Among the latter were J. N. B. Girking of Athena and J. M. Ferguson of Adams.

The alleged opium smugglers will be up for trial at this term of court, and for that reason, it is supposed, all the trial jurors were from outside of Portland.

Eagle: The stockholders of the Bank of Milton are very thankful that their officers escaped with their lives in the robbery. Of course they deplore the loss of the cash and are desirous to have the villains who stole it captured and punished, but they will not lose any sleep over their loss and would willingly give every cent of it to see the desperadoes safely behind the steel prison bars.

The Dalles has a crank who threatens the life of the mayor. On Saturday Mr. Kraft received an anonymous letter that unless the writer was furnished with work within three days Mr. Kraft must die. The wording of the letter shows the writer to be ignorant. By some it is thought to be a hoax, while others are alarmed.

The train came in contact with a horse belonging to Mr. Alloway the other day and the horse got the worst of it.

Adams Scribbler.

An Exciting Time.

Several stiff punches were served at the Transfer house saloon Saturday evening—not over the bar but in front of it. It looked like a free fight for a time. "Bob" Estes and a man named Cooper began the circus by mixing with one another in a by no means loving embrace.

Landlord Frank Schemp came in from the back room to stop the trouble and was interfered with by Henry Parr, who seemed to be acting as referee. John Estes took a hand in the proceedings, there were also others who were willing to participate, and a general conflict was imminent.

The landlord, although not feeling well, was equal to the occasion, however. He had a lively skirmish with Parr, who was forced to break a window pane with his head and suffer the indignity of a choking that caused his utter defeat. Mr. Schemp having proved that he "ruled the roost" and would not allow his house used as a pugilistic arena, sweet peace was soon restored.—E. O.

If you need clothing for yourself and boys go to J. Bloch & Co., they are selling at sacrifice.

The Lebanon postmaster has received from Washington the news that the Columbian stamp issue is exhausted.
